

Are you feeling frustrated that you're not being seen and heard?

Do you find yourself tongue-tied in key work and life conversations?

Is your work stressing you out and you just really want to make a difference?

You don't have to shout to Stand Out: Say what you need to say so you're seen and heard and can make a bigger difference

Christine Clifton helps mindful professionals feel confident and comfortable presenting their ideas. She draws forth their natural strengths so they speak from a place of conviction and are seen and heard. After working with her, their contributions are recognized, they gain credibility and feel more fulfilled in life and work.

Christine has worked with:

- * Financial Planners * Attorneys
- * Corporate Professionals and Managers
- * Graphic Artists * Mortgage Brokers
- * Wellness Practitioners * Accountants
- * Consultants & Speakers * Professional Organizers

In this interactive session, you will learn:

- ★ your hidden Super Power that makes people stop and Listen
- ★ what to Say so that others are Motivated to consider your idea
 - ★ how to Adapt your Conversation to appeal to more people
- ★ the One Technique you can use right now to get what you Want

You'll leave with specific steps to implement so your contribution is recognized

"Christine's intuitive approach helped me get to know myself and how to make the best use of my inherent strengths. I now clearly understand how to draw in future clients with simple strategies that aren't going to scare anyone away. With Christine's help and the use of her time-tested process, we have designed a game plan that will enable me to easily grow my business."

- Claudia Mott, CFP, CDFA - www.EponaFS.com

"Christine's presentation at a recent NJAWBO networking luncheon exceeded my expectations with regard to substance, clarity and interest. She has an engaging and genuine style and shares information that is useful, action-oriented and ready for immediate implementation into any business plan." - Eileen Seiler, NJAWBO Region 3 President

"It was indeed a pleasure to have Christine speak professionally for our membership about creating a sustainable sales process in their businesses. Her serial entrepreneurial journey inspired the audience and her thought-provoking questions pulled many crucial business goals to the surface for even the most detailed professional organizers." - Jean Marie Herron, Program Director, NAPO NNJ

